REFUND, CANCELLATION AND RETURN POLICY

Market My Art (MMA)
Effective Date: 5 November 2026

1. Introduction

Market My Art (MMA) is an online marketplace connecting customers with independent African artists, artisans, creators and vendors offering authentic African art, handmade crafts, fashion, cultural products and other creative merchandise.

We are committed to ensuring a safe, transparent and satisfactory shopping experience. This Refund, Cancellation and Return Policy explains the circumstances under which customers may request cancellations, returns, exchanges or refunds for purchases made through our platform.

2. Order Cancellation

Customers may request cancellation of an order before the vendor dispatches the purchased item.

- Cancellation requests must be submitted through MMA customer support.
- If an order has not been dispatched, the customer may qualify for a full refund.
- Once an order has been dispatched, cancellation may no longer be possible. The customer may instead follow the applicable return procedure.
- Any approved cancellation will be communicated to the customer.

3. Returns and Exchanges

Customers may request a return or exchange under the following circumstances:

- The item delivered is damaged or defective.
- The item received is materially different from the product description or photographs.
- The wrong item was delivered.
- The order is incomplete or contains missing items.

Customers should notify MMA within seven (7) calendar days of delivery and provide their order reference, a description of the problem and supporting photographs or videos where applicable.

Returned products must, where reasonably possible, be unused, undamaged and accompanied by their original packaging and accessories.

4. Non-Returnable Items

Certain products may not qualify for return unless they are defective, damaged or incorrectly supplied. These include:

- Custom-made or personalised artwork and products.
- Commissioned creative works produced to a customer's specifications.
- Digital products and downloadable materials once accessed or downloaded.
- Items clearly identified as non-returnable before purchase.

Nothing in this section limits any mandatory consumer rights under applicable law.

5. Refund Eligibility

A refund may be approved where:

- An order is successfully cancelled before dispatch.
- A returned item is verified as damaged, defective or incorrectly supplied.
- A vendor is unable to fulfil an accepted order.
- A product is confirmed to be materially inconsistent with its description.
- MMA determines that a refund is appropriate following a customer complaint or dispute.

6. Refund Processing

Once a refund request has been reviewed and approved:

- The customer will receive confirmation of the refund decision.
- Refunds will normally be processed through the original payment method.
- Processing times may vary depending on the payment provider, financial institution and payment method.
- Any applicable refund status or reference will be communicated to the customer.

MMA does not guarantee the exact date on which a bank or payment provider will credit the customer's account.

7. Shipping and Return Costs

Where a return results from an incorrect, damaged, defective or materially misrepresented product, MMA will coordinate with the relevant vendor to determine an appropriate return and shipping arrangement.

Where a customer changes their mind or requests a return for reasons unrelated to product defects or vendor error, the customer may be responsible for applicable return shipping costs, subject to applicable consumer protection laws.

8. Disputes and Complaints

Customers who are dissatisfied with an order or refund decision may contact MMA customer support.

MMA will review complaints, communicate with the relevant vendor and work towards a fair resolution.
